

Friday, 15 September 2023
Ca' Bottacin, room B

09.00-10.30 Irrigation and reclamation II

chair: Salvatore Ciriaco (University of Padua)

Aneurin Merril-Glover (University of Bristol), 'The whole body of the fenne': Bodily metaphor in 17th-century fenland drainage

John Morgan (University of Bristol), Knowing and defining 'new' land on the early modern English coast

Stéphane Durand (University of Avignon), 'A conservative technical culture'. The king's engineers and the water of lagoons in the spatial planning of the coast of Languedoc in the 18th century

10.30-11.00 Coffee break

11.00-13.00 Rivers and wars

chair: Oscar Schiavone (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Alice Raviola (University of Milan), «El camino que por el Po se utiliza de Mantua a Pavia»: Use of river waters between borders, war, strategies and resources in early modern Italy

Elisa Andretta (CNRS Lyon), The war of water. Knowledge and military techniques in the debate on the Tiber in 16th-century Rome

Laura Genovese (CNR Institute for Heritage Science), The rediscovery of 'water strategy' in the early modern age

Massimo Galtarossa (University of Padua), The River Brenta as a sanitary boundary: The rout of the Venetian army in 1630

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.30 Sacred waters

chair: Rachele Scuro (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Marios Hatzopoulos (University of Nicosia), Water and early modern prophecy: The Constantinopolitan spring of Balukli

Andrea Gondos (FU Berlin), Water as ritual and symbolic medium in early modern Jewish magic

Eduardo Jiménez Rayado (University Rey Juan Carlos), The Habsburg monarchy and the transformations of the water culture in Madrid

We regret that due to space constraints, the event is only open to the public remotely, via Zoom.

To request the link, please fill in the form at this address:

<https://forms.gle/joweuzvmco3wEMfT9>

Scientific committee and organisation

Prof. David Gentilcore, Dr Gaia Bruno, Dr Lavinia Maddaluno, Dr Oscar Schiavone, Dr Rachele Scuro, Dr Salvatore Valenti

Ca' Foscari, aula Mario Baratto

Venice, Dorsoduro 3246

Ca' Dolfin, aula magna Silvio Trentin

Venice, Dorsoduro 3825/e

Ca' Bottacin, room B

Venice, Dorsoduro 3911

Website

<https://pric.unive.it/projects/water-cultures/home>

Email

watercultures.conf@unive.it

This conference is part of the project Water-Cultures. The Water Cultures of Italy, 1500-1900 (PI prof. D. Gentilcore)

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

This project has received funding from the European Research Council (ERC) under the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (grant agreement n° 833834)

Università
Ca' Foscari
Venezia
Dipartimento di Studi Umanistici

Water-Cultures
The Water
Cultures
of Italy,
1500-1900

THE NEW INSTITUTE
Centre for Environmental Humanities (NICHE)
at Ca' Foscari
University of Venice

International Conference

The Water Cultures of Europe and the Mediterranean,
1500-1900

Venice, 13 - 15 September 2023

Ca' Foscari University of Venice

Wednesday, 13 September 2023

Ca' Foscari, aula Mario Baratto

09.00-09.30 Registration

09.30-10.00 Welcome addresses

10.00-11.00 Keynote lecture

Christopher Hamlin (University of Notre Dame), Water and anarchy

11.00-11.30 Coffee break

11.30-13.00 The art and theatre of water

chair: Rachele Scuro (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Ana Duarte Rodrigues (University of Lisbon), The beauty of water: From silence to SPLASH!

Ana Cristina Howie (Cornell University), Women, painters, and water in early modern Genoa

Sergius Kodera (University of Vienna), Delightful waterworks: Giovan Battista della Porta's (1535-1615) Hydraulics between 'scienza' and marvelous 'segreto'

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.30 Hydraulic landscape

chair: Lavinia Maddaluno (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Laura Dierksmeier (University of Tübingen), Water knowledge in practice: Local responses to water scarcity on the Canary Islands during the early modern period

Antonieta Reis Leite (University of Coimbra), The hydraulic landscape of the 19th-century Azores islands: Techno-scientific knowledge at the edge of Europe

Mary Lindemann (University of Miami), 'Aquae incognitae': The little waters of Brandenburg, 1600-1750

15.30-17.00 Irrigation and reclamation I

chair: Giacomo Bonan (University of Turin)

Alexander Andrew Hibberts (St John's College Durham University), Culverting divine power: Drainage systems, water, and the (post-)monastic imagination, c.1500-1570

Élias Burgel (University of Caen Normandy), Irrigation, rights and commons in the Lower Languedoc (Lattes-Montpellier, 17th-18th centuries)

Caroline Murphy (MIT Boston), Reclamation and reason of state in the Valdichiana

17.00-17.30 Coffee break

17.30-18.30 Underground water

chair: Salvatore Valenti (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Dániel Moerman (VU Amsterdam), Well-communities on the sand grounds of the eastern Netherlands: Deventer 1770-1870

Antonio Bonatesta (University of Bari), The 'reinvention' of artesian waters in Europe: Hydrogeology and groundwaters between the two industrial revolutions (1820s-1880s)

Thursday, 14 September 2023

Ca' Dolfin, aula magna Silvio Trentin

09.00-10.00 Keynote lecture

Petra van Dam (VU Amsterdam), Sustainable urban water in the Dutch Republic? Micro drinking water infrastructures and daily practices

10.00-11.00 Mineral waters

chair: Lavinia Maddaluno (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Armel Cornu (Science History Institute, Philadelphia), Waters and minerals in the economy of the French 18th century

Michael Zeheter (University of Trier), A dual-use commodity: Bottled mineral water between medicine and soft drink, c. 1870-1914

11.00-11.30 Coffee break

11.30-13.00 Urban waters

chair: Salvatore Valenti (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Marius Mutz (Bavarian National Museum), Managing hydraulic knowledge in 16th-century Electoral Saxony: Actors, institutions, and material culture

Luca Andreoni (Marche Polytechnic University), Good waters, bad waters: Urban waste, agricultural development, and Italian cities in the 19th century

Silvia A. Conca Messina (University of Milan), Managing the urban water system in Milan: The 'Naviglio interno' between local nobility and state control (1755-1796)

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.30 Water management

chair: Katherine Rinne (University of Virginia)

Renato Sansa (University of Calabria) and Giannantonio Scaglione (University of Calabria), The hydraulic wealth of a land poor in water

Maurizio Romano (Catholic University of the Sacred Heart, Milan) and Claudio Lorenzini (University of Udine), Water management in pre-industrial economies: The Lombardy and Friuli cases, 1750-1850 ca.

Daniele Palermo (University of Palermo), Averting the danger: Controversies over the use of water for production in 18th-century Sicily

15.30-17.00 Hydraulic knowledge

chair: Gaia Bruno (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Anatole Tchikine (Harvard University), Mobility and survival: Aqueduct technology in medieval Florence

Davide Martino (University of Cambridge), Knowledge streams: Im/mobility of hydraulic knowledge in early modern European cities

Santiago Gorostiza Langa (Autonomous University of Barcelona), Repairing urban networks, controlling water flows: Barcelona's 'Book of Fountains' (1650)

17.00-17.30 Coffee break

17.30-19.00 Life and death

chair: Diego Carnevale (University of Naples "Federico II")

Barbara Di Gennaro Splendore (University of Bucharest), Drink like an Egyptian: Prospero Alpini's examination of water and health in Egypt

Fabio Pruneri (University of Sassari), Water and body health in the school desks: Hygienic culture and the use of water in the history of education in Italy between the 19th and 20th centuries

Ella Sbaraini (University of Cambridge), 'I believe it will be a watery grave': Suicide, drowning and the language of water in 18th- and 19th-century England

Friday, 15 September 2023

Ca' Foscari, aula Mario Baratto

09.00-10.30 Waterworks in Ottoman Crete

chair: Salvatore Valenti (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Antonis Anastasopoulos (University of Crete and Institute for Mediterranean Studies/FORTH), Water rights in 18th-century Ottoman Kandiye

Anna Androvitsanea (Technical University Berlin), Tracing the transfer of water engineering knowledge in Rethymno from the Venetian to the Ottoman era

Nicola Verderame (University of Naples "L'Orientale"), 'Unifying waters': Water projects in Crete in the 1890s

10.30-11.00 Coffee break

11.00-13.00 Supplying water

chair: Gaia Bruno (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

Matthijs Degraeve (VU Brussels), Indoor water management: Sanitary governance of private housing in London, Paris and Brussels, 1850-1914

Bob Pierik (VU Amsterdam), Water and seasonality: Everyday rhythms of water in early modern households

Mathieu Torck (KU Leuven), Sweet water for salty sea voyages: A study of water supplying during early transoceanic Iberian voyages from the Mediterranean to the Pacific

Anna Speyart (Princeton University), The summer snows of early modern Florence

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.30 Thermal springs

chair: Oscar Schiavone (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

François Zanetti (University of Paris-Cité), Medical authority over French mineral waters and spas 1770s-1830s: The 'médecins intendants des eaux minérales'

Ursula Klüwick (University of Bern), Changing water cultures: Spas and the seaside in British 19th-century novels

Stefan Peychev (Sofia University), A thermal spring and its city: Water, space, and place in early modern Ottoman Sofia

15.30-16.00 Coffee break

16.00-17.00

Felipe Fernández-Armesto (University of Notre Dame), Concluding remarks